

Baha Khammari

Düsseldorf, Germany · b.e.khammari@gmail.com · +49 1520 9016956 · linkedin.com/in/baha-khammari

Profile

Economist with graduate training in causal inference and applied microeconometrics, working on the evaluation of public policy from administrative microdata. M.Sc. Economics, University of Cologne, thesis graded 1.0. Two years at PwC in audit and financial reporting. German and Tunisian Arabic native, English C1, French B1. EU citizen, available from October 2026.

Education

University of Cologne

Cologne, Germany

M.Sc. Economics, 120 ECTS. Thesis 1.0, overall 1.6 (German scale, 1.0 highest)

Oct. 2023 – Sep. 2026

- Mathematics for Economists 1.0. Econometrics 1.3. Energy Markets and Regulation 1.3.
- Focus on applied econometrics, energy and climate policy, and financial macroeconomics.

Rotterdam School of Management (RSM), Erasmus University

Rotterdam, Netherlands

Erasmus+ Exchange Semester. Asset Pricing, Derivatives Valuation

Sep. 2024 – Dec. 2024

University of Cologne

Cologne, Germany

B.Sc. Economics, 1.6. Dean's List

Oct. 2019 – Feb. 2023

- Microeconomics 1.0. Statistics 1.0. Mathematics 1.0. Applied Econometrics 1.3. Advanced Microeconomics 1.3. Energy and environmental policy 1.3.

Languages

- German (native), Tunisian Arabic (native), English (C1, IELTS Academic 8.0), French (B1, DELF), Italian (A2).

Policy Research and Evaluation

Master's Thesis: evaluating a national higher-education policy

University of Cologne

Grade 1.0/1.0, 30 ECTS. Supervisors: Prof. Dr. Pia Pinger and Anna Person, M.Sc.

Oct. 2025 – Apr. 2026

- Found a non-monotonic dose–response whose sign the conventional two-way fixed effects estimator reverses, and reported effects separately by gender, ethnicity and region.
- Estimated the causal labour-market effects of Brazil's ProUni scholarship programme across 558 regions over 2005–2019, using the Callaway and Sant'Anna (2021) heterogeneity-robust staggered difference-in-differences estimator with doubly-robust inference.
- Built the panel alone from administrative records, roughly five million linked employer–employee observations, in R through a BigQuery interface.
- Robustness: HonestDiD sensitivity analysis (Rambachan and Roth, 2023), Bacon decomposition, age-cohort placebo, alternative exposure cutoffs, concurrent-policy controls.

Seminar Paper: Housing and the Macroeconomy

University of Cologne

Supervisors: Prof. Dr. Michael Krause and Dong-Ho Kang, PhD | Grade: 1.3

2024

- Title: From Boom to Bust: The Role of Subprime Mortgage Credit in the 2007 U.S. Housing Crisis.
- Weighed the income, credit-supply and house-price-expectation explanations of the 2002–2005 subprime expansion against one another, on the within-county ZIP-code comparisons of Mian and Sufi (2009), the housing supply elasticity instrument of Saiz (2010), and the securitisation evidence in Keys et al. (2010) and Adelino et al. (2016).

Seminar paper: carbon leakage from the EU ETS

University of Cologne

Panel Data Methods seminar

Summer 2026

- Research design on whether a higher effective EU ETS carbon cost raised EU imports of emission-intensive goods from North African partners over 2005–2021.

- Defines the treatment as the allowance price attenuated by the sector-year free-allocation share, and works through the EU rules on activity thresholds, closure provisions and partial cessation that tie allocation to continued production.

Methods and Tools

- Methods: Difference-in-differences including staggered adoption and doubly-robust estimation, event studies, panel data models, instrumental variables, regression diagnostics.
- Tools: R (advanced: `did`, `fixest`, `HonestDiD`, `tidyverse`, `ggplot2`), SQL and BigQuery, Python (basic), MS Excel (advanced), Power BI, $\LaTeX$, Git.

Professional Experience

PwC Germany

Düsseldorf, Germany

Intern and Working Student, Assurance Solutions

Mar. 2023 – Jul. 2025

- Worked two consecutive annual audits for the same client, and supported documentation on several smaller engagements.
- Variance analyses and plausibility checks for annual and group audits (HGB/IFRS) of clients with balance sheets above EUR 500 million.
- Audited sustainability disclosures under ISAE 3000 and tested internal controls.
- Built KPI tracking and financial forecasting in Excel for the engagement team.

Alongside Studies

Nespresso (Nestlé)

Cologne and Düsseldorf, Germany

Product Adviser, part-time

since Jan. 2026

- Advising and selling premium products in direct customer contact, at consistent target attainment.

Private tutoring

Düsseldorf, Germany

Mathematics, Abitur level, two students

2023 – 2025

Awards

- Dean's List, University of Cologne, B.Sc. Economics.
- Junior Ambassador of the European Parliament, Cecilien-Gymnasium Düsseldorf, 2017–2019.
- 2nd Prize, Young Economic Summit national finals 2018, organised by the ZBW Leibniz Information Centre for Economics under the patronage of the Federal Ministry for Economic Affairs.
- Interests: economic geography and modern history. Fashion. Most sports with a ball or an engine, above all football, Formula 1, tennis and the NFL.

References

- Available upon request.